Looks Like a Fight For Life

FIRST CLASH WITH TROOPS

Score of Strikers Wounded In a Riot In the Anthracite Field.

Philadelphia, May 1.—With the exception of a riot at Mount Carmel, where nearly a score of men were shot in a clash between a detail of the new state police and a mob of foreign mine workers, the beginning of the fifth week of the suspension of work found the anthracite regions quiet. At numerous places attempts were made to cut coal, but these efforts in most cases proved fruitless, and comparatively little coal was sent to the surface. There were, however, a number of washeries in operation, but the quantity of coal taken from their culm banks was not large.

Several of the large coal companies are making every effort to get some of their collieries in operation, and mining officials express the belief that by the end of the week a large number of men will have returned to work. The Reading company is making extensive preparations for a long strike. Commissions were issued by the state department at Harrisburg to 80 coal and iron policemen for that company, and two carloads of deputies and non-union men arrived at Shamokin and were distributed about the collieries of the company.

Most of the locals have elected their delegates to the convention of the miners' union, which will be held in Scranton Thursday. In nearly every instance the delegates have been instructed to follow the advice of President Mitchell. The trouble at Mount Carmel has stirred up the mine workers, and the strike sentiment is much stronger than it has been heretofore.

The First Fray.

Mount Carmel, Pa., May 1. — The first serious collision in the anthracite coal regions since the mining was suspended occurred here between a mob of idle mine workers and a platoon of the new state constabulary force, and resulted in the injuring of probably 20 men, three of whom will likely die. The disturbance was caused by an attack on a detail of the state police by several hundred foreigners, who became incensed at the presence of the constables. They threw stones at the policemen and otherwise endangered their lives to such an extent that they were forced to fire on the crowd, which had swelled into thousands. The riot caused the greatest excitement in the many mining villages of the southern coal fields when it became known that mine workers had been shot down. While it is believed that a score of persons were injured in the fray, only 10 are accounted for. The three who it is thought will die are: R. Miserevich, shot in the stomach; Stanislaus Watakoski, shot in groin; Louis Wilson, shot through the body.

Miners Leaving Coal Fields.

Reading, Pa., May 1.—The Reading company is releasing some coal from its storage plants and, including the washer coal, is sending between 400 and 500 carloads through this city daily. During the suspension of mining Reading officials are making every effort to give idle trainhands work. Most of those employed in the coal trade on the Reading division were given employment on the Lebanon Valley branch. On the Shamokin division the men are less fortunate, only a few having secured employment. During the past 10 days it is estimated that fully 2,000 miners passed through Reading on their way to the large cities. Most of them travel by night and on through freight trains. They come from the vicinity of Mount Carmel, Shamokin and Shenandoah.

Soft-Coal Strike.

Punxsutawney, Pa., May 1.—By resolutions passed at mass meetings held by members of Subdistrict 5 of District 2, United Mine Workers of America, a strike is on in the soft-coal region of Clearfield, and although several thousand men are involved there has been no trouble. Notices were posted by the operators that the scale of 1902 would be paid, but the miners held out for the recognition of the union and the collection of the check-off by the operators.

Mitchell at Scranton.

Scranton, Pa., May 1.—John Mitchell will establish his headquarters at the Hotel Schadt. Unless he has something unexpected "up his sleeve," it is just about as good as settled that the convention which is to meet in the courthouse Thursday will declare in favor of a strike. That is practically unanimously believed here among the representatives of both

29 COUNTIES HAVE APPLIED FOR HELP TO BUILD GOOD ROADS

Columbus, O., May 1.—Building of good roads under the supervision of the state and with the state's money will soon begin in earnest. The time limit for filing petitions for state aid under the law establishing the highway department, as amended by the last legislature has expired. For construction and reconstruction of roads 29 counties sent in petitions. State Highway Commissioner Huston will make out an itinerary of the state and visit the counties as rapidly as possible, the law making it his duty to investigate the roads petitioned for.

Accepts Position at Columbus.

Wm. Crowe is moving to Columbus today where he will accept a fine position as salesman for a big piano firm.

HURST HOGS THE PERSIMMONS

Gives Judge Mitchell a Solar Plexus In Tuscarawas.

There are doings in Democracy over in Tuscarawas county and no one knows what the end may be. J. Edward Hurst has hogged the persimmons. Here is what the Uhrichsville Chronicle says:

If ex-Senator J. Edward Hurst does not secure the Democratic nomination for congress in this district when the convention meets at New Philadelphia June 6, it will not be the fault of the Democratic county Central committee.

At its meeting Saturday afternoon the committee by unanimous vote decided to let Hurst name his own delegates to the coming convention. Prior to going into executive session the committee asked Judge Mitchell to tell them what he wanted. The Judge who was an avowed candidate for the nomination, stated to the committee that he would like the endorsement of Tuscarawas county. Senator Hurst was then summoned.

The senator modestly stated that he would leave the matter in the hands of the committe. The outcome

COSHOCTON SENDS $300 TO SAN FRANCISCO

Mayor Smith Wired This Through Courtesy Of Postal Tel. Co.

Coshocton's donation to San Francisco reached exactly $300 and it was sent by wire to Mayor Schmitz Tuesday morning. Mayor Smith had in his hands exactly $296.16 and met a public spirited citizen who volunteered to make up the balance. So it is exactly $300. Of this entire sum $81 was given by the benefit and $50 came from one man.

On account of the reported difficulty of cashing paper in San Francisco on account of the scarcity of money it was not deemed advisable to send a draft by mail. The Postal Telegraph Co. kindly proffered free use of their wire in transmitting the money by telegraph and the generous offer was accepted. The sum was wired without expense Tuesday morning. Mayor Smith to Mayor Schmitz.

Want Branch of Glove Co.

Messrs. Moses B. Kennedy, Frank Murphy and Samuel Robinson, a committee representing the Newcomerstown board of trade, were in the city today to confer with the Coshocton Glove and Garment Co. They came to offer inducements to this busy Coshocton plant to erect a branch factory in Newcomerstown. That village has stood on the horizon and seen the rapid growth of the Glove and Garment factory, and has decided that they want a little of the same brand of prosperity there.

The local plant of the factory is crowded to its capacity and while it will be continued in the same manner yet a branch at Newcomerstown is not beyond the pale of possibilities. At least the management has the matter under consideration and will make known their decision soon. Such a move would not in the slightest affect the local plant.

COIN WAS ... THE FRISCO FIRE

H. B. Deacer Receives a Graphic Curio of The Catastrophe.

A nickle, blackened and half melted, with every evidence of having been in a fiery furnace, was received by H. B. Deacer Tuesday morning in a letter from his old chum who is now in Oakland, Calif., Frank Riggle.

He picked up the nickle in the smoking ruins of San Francisco and sends it to his old friend as a pocket piece. It is an interesting object.

Mr. Riggle states that the newspapers have not told the horrors, far from exaggerating, and that it veritably was a "hell upon earth."

Mr. Deacer is taking a good deal of pardonable pride in exhibiting the nickle to his friends.

FLAMES SWEEPING OVER SAN FRANCISCO AFTER THE EARTHQUAKE.

PORTS OF THE GREAT LAKES ARE TIED UP BY A STRIKE

Longshoremen And Allies Suspended Work At Midnight.

Cleveland, O., May 1.—The order of President Keefe of the longshoremen's union for a suspension of work was received by longshoremen and marine transport workers here, and at midnight the men obeyed, work on the docks here being suspended at that time.

"The pilots' or mates' union will not be recognized by the vessel owners," remarked F. R. Gilchrist, treasurer of the Gilchrist Transportation company, which operates one of the largest fleets on the Great Lakes. "It is the old fight of two years over again. Then there was a strike to have the captains recognized as union men. That was settled, and now comes the mates, through the longshoremen, and ask to have the mates' union recognized. A captain and mates stand in the same relation to the vessel owners as do the superintendent of a factory to the manufacturer. The vessel owners think that they are entitled to at least two representatives on each boat who are not affiliated with the union. A ... owners hold, that he should not be connected with the union."

Six Thousand Out.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 1.—Six thousand men, every member of the longshoremen's union in this port, went on strike in accordance with orders from President Daniel J. Keefe. They include marine firemen, oilers, water tenders, lake pilots, grain scoopers, stationary dock firemen, coal handlers, ore handlers, tug firemen and engineers. It is said here that every port on the Great Lakes will be affected by the strike, and that lake commerce will be tied up with one of the biggest strikes in years.

At Chicago.

Chicago, May 1. — Only six boats were affected by the longshoremen's strike, so that the number of men actually out here is small. On these vessels a number of the pilots were not members of the union, but they made application for membership and quit work with the union men.

Will The Rest Of It Come True?

Spangler, the prophet, predicted in New York World of Dec. 18, 1905, that these things would happen in 1906:

A destructive eruption of Mount Vesuvius.
Destructive earthquakes in California and the Philippines.
Earthquakes in all parts of the world.
Volcanic eruptions in all parts of the world.
Rebellion in Spain.
Great disturbances all over Europe.

ELKS LODGE TO INSTALL FINE PUBLIC RESTAURANT

Will Decide Definitely Tonight on Location Of Lodge Rooms.

The Elks will take definite action at their meeting tonight on the matter of a new lodge home. The committee appointed for that purpose some time ago will make a detailed report and it is understood—although Elks decline to talk on the matter at all—that they will recommend the leasing of the entire second floor of the building they now occupy together with that of the Almack building—the other half of the present building. This will make one of the handsomest lodge homes in the state.

The plan is said to embody splendid improvements one of which the public is particularly interested in. It is a public restaurant on the second floor front of the Almack portion of the building, which will be open to ladies and gentlemen irrespective of lodge affiliations.

The Age will be able tomorrow to give exact details of the plans as the matter will be definitely determined tonight.

Besides this important matter there are to be two or three initiations which will be as warm as the weather will permit.

On account of the illness of Chef White, the inner sanctorum of the lodge will be closed until Friday when Chef White expects to resume his duties. The parlors of the lodge will be open as usual.

STRANGE BIRD CAUGHT HERE

Wm. Grant Has a Visitor That Mystifies Ornithologists.

A strange bird found in the yard of the Wm. Grant home on West Locust street Monday evening, is creating considerable interest in that section of the city today. The bird is about as large as a wild duck and has a beautiful dark color. It appears too young to fly and how it got into the yard and where it came from are mysteries.

An authority on birds is wanted who can tell to what part of the feathery kingdom the strange visitor belongs.

COSHOCTON MAN WRITES OF THE SHAKING EARTH

T. H. Glover Tells How He Was Spilled Out of Bed By The Earthquake.

Mr. C. H. Glover is in receipt of an interesting letter from his brother T. H. Glover who is at Richmond, Cal., a short distance from San Francisco and who with Capt. McMillen who is also there went through harrowing experiences in the earthquake. The Age is permitted to print the interesting portions of the letter as follows:

Richmond, Cal., April 23, 1906

Dear Brother:

That you may know that I am neither shaken from or buried in the earth, I take occasion to write you and will endeavor to give you a little of my personal experience with the earthquake. Of course the people of Coshocton and county have read of the terrible disaster that has befallen the city of San Francisco, less than a few weeks ago. It was a magnificent city—today it is reduced to ashes. Golden Gate park and the highlands are full of homeless and dressed people—people who were rich and those who were poor all on a level, but thank God the American people are quick and ready to respond when such disasters occur to go to the rescue of those involved, to give bread and all that is necessary to eat and tents and blankets, to make the people comfortable are being rapidly shipped in from all of the country. The surrounding cities and towns of the Bay are filling up with refugees. Everything is under Martial law. Notices are posted in public places anyone caught looting or commiting depredations, shall be instantly shot without trial, so 'tis the best for a man to be a good citizen, observe the law (or orders) and mind his own business, if he wants to live in this community at present.

I will not attempt to enumerate any of the sad things that occured Many people are quiet in death. The faces of the living who were in the stricken district tell sadly and plainly the terrible ordeal thfough which they have passed. But the people are beginning to quiet down and look the situation sternly in the face, and talk of the future.

For two nights or part of the night I stood with a throng of others on the Highlands, overhanging the Bay with Richmond on one side and 'Frisco seven miles away on the other, we could see distinctly the flames in all their fury leaping in the air from block to block rapidly reducing to ashes a magnificent city with all of its Jewels and much of human life. The reflections of the times upon the water was beautiful while the work they were doing was terrible, but you are reading more or less of it in your daily papers, and I will now proceed to tell you something of my personal experience with the shake up.

During the latter part of the night I did not sleep very well and was anxious for daylight to come that I might get up, when instantly the house began dancing a jig I took in the situation at once, but thinking it would be all over in a moment I thought I would remain in bed until all was quiet; it did let up for a little for from one to two seconds then began again much worse than before it seemed like the home would certainly collapse, it fairly jumped up and down and I thought sidewise by this time I decided it was time for me to settle some place else. I got up reached for my pantaloons, and was thrown back on the bed without ceremony or even my consent, I made another effort, succeeded in getting my pants on, unlocked the door leading to the hall, opened it and found men and women running in every direction though the hall in their night robes, some of the women screaming, but nobody hurt. By this time the earth was quiet and behaving itself, I was at the head of the stairway by this time and discovered a lady who had collapsed lying across the stairway I went to her, she was not hurt but almost frightened to death.

I assumed that I had the earthquake under control, assured her that it was all over, not to be further alarmed, took her by the arm assisted her to the landing, found a place for her to sit down, then went back to my room, put on the balance of my clothes and went down stairs. All the big glass in front of the hotel were shaken out and crushed to pieces, the chimneys were lying in the streets. I soon learned that the Round House and R. R. Machine Shops were tumbled to the ground, and knowing our Nephew Joe G. Glover was working night work there hastened there, but he got out alive then I came back and ate breakfast.

At 8 a. m. I was up stairs and got another pretty good jolt, that finished it up for the day save a few light shocks. This is the way they treat a man when he comes to California. even though he is minding his own business (or thinks he is). To say the least 'tis an experience the people of the coast will not soon forget 'twould look as though it were safer to live in Ohio than in California.

When I return home I can tell you about it.

Capt. McMillen is well.

With best wishes for yor and the people of Coshocton County, I am as ever, your brother.

T. H. Glover.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

TWO LUNATICS ARE AT LARGE

Brace of Dangerous Men Escape From Asylum.

Two human monstrosities are at large and a dispatch today from Columbus gives warning that they are thought to be coming in this direction. Last Saturday two lunatics escaped from the padded cells of the Columbus asylum. They were Isaac Reynolds, an insane horse thief, and Ralph Dety. The same duo escaped a year ago and were caught at Newark. Warning at that time was sent Coshocton.

The men are degenerates as well as insane and there is no telling what they might do. They are cunning and clever and absolutely dangerous to whoever they may come in contact with.

It is not known where they are, but the authorities have warned all the surrounding towns. They may not be headed this way. But they may be.

WORTH MORE THAN THEIR WEIGHT IN GOLD

Pepsikola Tablets of Priceless Value in Relieving Indigestion.

Health is everything. Many a millionaire would willingly part with half his fortune for perfect digestion. Riches, fame, and the realization of every desire cannot create contentment if indigestion is making one's existance miserable When C. E. Anderson tells you that in all his experience he never knew anything to relieve sour stomach, coated tongue, dizzy spells, poor appetite, lassitude and fatigue due to imperfect digestion, there must be some good reason for their confidence, and there is. Dozens of chronic old dyspeptics right here in Coshocton who despaired of ever getting relief have tried Pepsikola Tablets on C. E. Anderson's recommend and today are completely cured. Moreover, a druggist could not afford to keep on recommending an indigestion remedy unless it really will cure, for you would mighty soon lose confidence and trade at some other store. Pepsikola Tablets are a grand nerve tonic, they will give you new energy and new ambition, improve your appetite, strengthen your digestive organs and unless they give you perfect digestion C. E. Anderson will gladly pay your quarter back.

SAY COL. CRAWFORD DON'T OWN THE HORSE

Mohawk Horse Co. speaks Concerning Horse attachment.

In a letter to The Age signed by the Mohawk Horse Co. regarding the attachment issued to L. H. Fry of Warsaw against Col. Crawford of Newark, appears the following:

The horse referred to is strictly the property of the Mohawk Horse Co., and there is no attachment on him of any kind. The horse will remain just where he is and is well able to take of himself in any place or any land. Likewise, the stockholders are well able to pay any honorable and just bills which may be presented to them and are always ready and willing to do it. Consequently no attachment is necessary.

GRANGE LIFE INSURANCE.

Past Master Hale of New York Writes on the Subject.

[Special Correspondence.]

I feel myself incompetent to the task of writing on the subject of grange life insurance, but gladly give you my personal views upon this question. When I was connected with the state and national grange the question of life insurance was often discussed in our executive meetings, but finally left without any positive recommendations to the subordinate granges. The grange theoretically should be as competent to manage life as fire insurance, which they are doing very successfully and profitably in nearly all of the states. One of the serious hindrances to grange life insurance is the age of our membership. You are aware that a majority of our members are past thirty-five years of age, consequently rates must be correspondingly high if such companies are to be and remain financially sound, and if they are not so beyond question it would result in disaster to our Order. We have today several fraternal organizations that are purely life insurance. They are so firmly established that it would be hazardous for our Order to undertake competition with them. Therefore I believe it should not be done by the grange.

No organization in existence has so many important problems and questions before it for solution as the grange, and until we can solve the problem of how to keep our boys and girls upon the farm and how to make our farms more profitable it will be wise for us to leave life insurance alone.

The terrible fact that our farms have depreciated in value since 1880 $180,000,000; that there are 20,000 farms offered for sale in our own state alone at barely the cost of the buildings upon them; that illiteracy is increasing upon the farms more than in the city notwithstanding the large influx of the ignorant foreign immigrants; that nearly all of our brightest boys leave the farm as soon as possible—until we solve some of these questions I think that life insurance in the grange had better be left for future consideration.

O. H. HALE.

Norwood, N. Y.

A HINT FOR GRANGERS.

Co-operation Among Farmers That Is Highly Successful.

Consul Walter C. Hanna of Hull, England, furnishes a report to the state department on co-operation among farmers in Denmark. He says there are over 230 farmers at Esbjerg who are members of a co-operative dairy located at that place. These farmers are the owners of 1,500 cows. A small quantity of the milk is retailed in the town where the business is located, but the great bulk is made into butter and exported to England. There is also in operation a co-operative butter and egg association, with headquarters at the same town. This society has fifty separate creameries scattered over different parts of the north and west of Denmark, where the butter is made, then sent on to headquarters to be blended and made of uniform quality before exportation. The membership embraces 30,000 farmers, and the association ships 4,000,000 pounds of butter annually. Eggs for the egg department are shipped in weekly, each egg being stamped with the name of the producer, the district and the date, so that any bad eggs can be traced directly to the producer. When prices are low, immense quantities of eggs are preserved in huge vats of lime and water, with an air tight covering of water glass. When prices advance, these are gradually released. The average receipts of this society are about $2,750,000. It has been established only ten years and is still growing.

One Reason Enough.

"Why do we favor the election of United States senators by popular vote?" is one of the questions given by the national lecturer for discussion in the granges in April. Why? Because the people would like to get a chance to keep such men out of the senate as some there have been shown to be, and they would do it too.

A Live Grange.

Jonesboro grange of Maine recently received seventy applications for membership on one evening. No wonder they are to build a new hall soon.

Some Reasons Why Farmers Should Join the Grange.

Because it is controlled by farmers.

Because it opposes legislation that is not in the farmer's interest.

Because its moral teachings are next to those of the church itself.

Because it proposes to let the world know that there is such a man as the farmer.

Because it has "done things" for the farmer in the past and will do them in the future.

Because it maintains fire insurance organizations, the safest and cheapest in existence.

Because it is a farmers' organization working in the farmers' behalf, first, last and all the time.

Because the farmers must organize or be defeated in every attempt to secure their just rights in legislation.

THE STORY OF AGATHA WEBB

There was suavity in her tone now, not unmixed with candor. Sweetwater did not seem to relish this, for he moved uneasily on his feet and lost a shade of his self satisfied attitude. He had still to be made acquainted with all the ins and outs of the woman's remarkable nature.

"We are waiting," suggested Dr. Talbot.

She turned to face this new speaker, and Frederick was relieved from the sight of her tantalizing smile.

"I will tell my story simply," said she, "with the simple suggestion that you believe me; otherwise you will make a mistake. While I was resting from a dance the other night I heard two of the young people talking about the Zabels. One of them was laughing at the old men, and the other was trying to relate some old story of early love which had been the cause, she thought, of their strange and melancholy lives. I was listening to them, but I did not take in much of what they were saying till I heard behind me an irascible voice exclaiming: 'You laugh, do you? I wonder if you would laugh so easily if you knew that these two poor old men haven't had a decent meal in a fortnight?' I didn't know the speaker, but I was thrilled by his words. Not had a good meal, these men, for a fortnight! I felt as if personally guilty of their suffering, and, happening to raise my eyes at this minute and seeing through an open door the bountiful refreshments prepared for us all in the supper room, I felt guiltier than ever. Suddenly I took a resolution. It was a queer one and may serve to show you some of the oddities of my nature. Though I was engaged for the next dance, and though I was dressed in the flimsiest garments suitable to the occasion, I decided to leave the hall and carry some sandwiches down to these old men in their cottage. Procuring a bit of paper, I made up a bundle and stole out of the house without having said a word to anybody of my intention. Not wishing to be seen, I went out by the garden door, which is at the end of a dark hall."

"Just as the band was playing the 'Harebell Mazourka,'" interpolated Sweetwater.

Startled for the first time from her careless composure by an interruption of which it was impossible for her at that minute to measure either the motive or the meaning, she ceased to play with her fingers on the baluster rail and let her eyes rest for a moment on the man who had thus spoken, as if she hesitated between her desire to annihilate him for his impertinence and a fear of the cold hate she saw actuating his every word and look. Then she went on, as if no one had spoken:

"I ran down the hill recklessly. I was bent on my errand and not at all afraid of the dark. When I reached that part of the road where the streets branch off, I heard footsteps in front of me. I had overtaken some one. Slackening my pace so that I should not pass this person, whom I instinctively knew to be a man, I followed him till I came to a high board fence. It was that surrounding Agatha Webb's house, and when I saw it I could not help connecting the rather stealthy gait of the man in front of me with a story I had lately heard of the large sum of money she was known to have in her house. Whether this was before or after this person disappeared round the corner I cannot say, but no sooner had I become certain that he was bent upon entering this house than my impulse to follow him became greater than my precaution, and, turning aside from the direct path to the Zabels', I hurried down High street just in time to see the man enter Mrs. Webb's front gateway.

"A flower worn by you at the dance was found near Batsy's skirts."

"It was a late hour for visiting; but, as the house had lights in both its lower and upper stories, I should by good rights have taken it for granted that he was an expected guest and gone my own way to the Zabels'. But I did not. The softness with which this person stepped and the skulking way in which he hesitated at the front gate aroused my worst fears, and after he had opened that gate and slid in I was so pursued by the idea that he was there for no good that I stepped inside the gate myself and took my stand in the deep shadow cast by the old pear tree on the right hand side of the walk. Did any one speak?"

There was a unanimous denial from the five gentlemen before her, yet she did not look satisfied.

"I thought I heard some one make a remark," she said and paused again for a half minute, during which her smile was a study. It was so cold and in such startling contrast to the vivid glances she threw everywhere except behind her on the landing where Frederick stood listening to her every word.

"We are very much interested," remarked Mr. Courtney. "Pray go on."

Drawing her left hand from the balustrade where it had rested, she looked at one of her fingers with an odd backward gesture.

"I will," she said, and her tone was hard and threatening. "Five minutes, no longer, passed when I was startled by a loud and terrible cry from the house, and, looking up at the second story window, from which the sound proceeded, I saw a woman's figure hanging out in a seemingly pulseless condition. Too terrified to move, I clung, trembling, to the tree, hearing and not hearing the shouts and laughter of a dozen or more men who at that minute passed by the corner on their way to the wharfs. I was dazed, I was choking, and only came to myself when sooner or later, I do not know how soon or how late, a fresh horror happened. The woman whom I had just seen fall almost from the window was a serving woman, but when I heard another scream I knew that the mistress of the house was being attacked, and, riveting my eyes on those windows, I beheld the shade of one of them thrown back and a hand appear, flinging out something which fell in the grass on the opposite side of the lawn. Then the shade fell again, and, hearing nothing further, I ran to where the object flung out had fallen and, feeling for it, found and picked up an old fashioned dagger, dripping with blood. Horrified beyond all expression, I dropped the weapon and drew back, trembling, into my former place of concealment.

"But I was not satisfied to remain there. A curiosity, a determination even, to see the man who had committed this dastardly deed attacked me with such force that I was induced to leave my hiding place and even to enter the house where in all probability he was counting the gains he had just obtained at the price of such precious blood. The door, which he had not perfectly closed behind him, seemed to invite me in, and before I had realized my own temerity I was standing in the hall of this ill fated house."

The interest which up to this moment had been breathless now expressed itself in hurried ejaculations and broken words, and Mr. Sutherland, who had listened like one in a dream, exclaimed eagerly and in a tone which proved that he for the moment at least believed this more than improbable tale:

"Then you can tell us if Philemon was in the little room at the moment when you entered the house?"

As every one there present realized the importance of this question, a general movement took place, and each and all drew nearer as she met their eyes and answered placidly:

"Yes; Mr. Webb was sitting in a chair asleep. He was the only person I saw."

"Oh, I know he never committed this crime," gasped his old friend, in a relief so great that one and all seemed to share it.

"Now I have courage for the rest. Go on, Miss Page."

But Miss Page paused again to look at her finger and give that sidewise toss to her head that seemed so uncalled for by the situation to any who did not know of the compact between herself and the listening man below.

"I hate to go back to that moment," said she, "for when I saw the candles burning on the table and the husband of the woman above sitting there in unconscious apathy I felt something rise in my throat that made me deathly sick for a moment. Then I went right in where he was and was about to shake his arm and wake him when I detected a spot of blood on my finger from the dagger I had handled. That gave me another turn and led me to wipe off my finger on his sleeve."

"It's a pity you did not wipe off your slippers, too," murmured Sweetwater.

DISHES FILLED NOONDAY AIR

Jake Henry Must Have Eaten Slice Of Shark.

Jake Henry, who is well known in police circles and has an unenviable reputation in the western part of the city, stirred up some excitement on Water street, just after noon hour today.

Jake lives with his brother Charley and the pair make a living peddling fish. During the noon hour Jake either became dissatisfied with his mid day meal or the regular routine of life on Water street became too dull for without any warning, he began to smash up dishes, furniture and wound up by starting to smash out the window lights. Officer Fretueg was called and after being placed under arrest, Jake refused to walk to the city hall. Turnkey Decker thereupon chartered a grocery wagon and the prisoner was hauled to the station in the improvised patrol. A charge of disorderly conduct was placed against Jake.

HURST

would indicate that the senator was justified in so doing. The committee then went into excecutive session and handed the delegation, all tied up with pink blue ribbons, to Hurst.

It was announced late Monday afternoon that Senator Hurst had fears that the Democratic Central committee had really handed him a gold brick and that he will not accept the permission tendered him to select his own delegates to the convention

It is said that leaders of the party who know a few points in the game of politics pointed out to Hurst that the result of the committee's slaughter of Judge Mitchell's asphiations might not be what friends of Hurst desired.

As one old war horse put it, "Ed has heard the earth tremble." It is reported that the committee will be called together again and that a convention will be arranged for with an equal opportunity for both candidates.

Of the situation in the district the Columbus correspondent of The Cincinnati Enquirer has the following: E. S. Wertz of Wayne will be opposed by former Senator J. Edwin Hurst of Tuscarawas, who was defeated by Smyser two years ago in the Roosevelt slump. Licking county will also present an opponent in the person of Representative J. A. Ashbrook of Johnstown There are five counties in the district--Tuscarawas, with 64 votes; Wayne, 55; Holmes, 26, Coshocton, 35, and Licking, 65 By combining Tuscarawas and Licking can nominate. Hurst comes from Tuscarawas, and will have a personal delegation, making it easy for him to effect a combination with Ashbrook

There are excellent reasons for the announcement that Wertz will have the call in the other counties, which will not have any candidates, unless it should appear that there is danger of a deadlock. The district has a reputation for nominating dark horses, the last instance being the selection of Prof. John A. McDowell, of Holmes county, who went to the convention as a spectator and came away with the nomination.

TELLS BY THEIR SLEEP

"I can tell by my little ones' sleep when a cold is coming on" said a mother when speaking of the advance symptoms of colds in children. "They toss about, are restless, their breathing is heavy and there are symptoms of night sweats. The next morning I start with Scott's Emulsion. The chances are that in a day or two they are all over it. Their rest is again peaceful and the breathing normal."

Here's a suggestion for all mothers. Scott's Emulsion always has been almost magical in its action when used as the ounce of prevention. Nothing seems to overcome child weakness quite so effectively and quickly as Scott's Emulsion.

MURDER OF BIRDS MUST STOP

Arrests Should Be Made of Boys. With Air-Rifles.

Residents of the southeastern part of the city are complaining of the promiscuous slaghter of innocent birds by boys with air rifles. One resident states that he routed some boys out of the Johnston orchard Sunday after which he found two robins wounded fluttering about as a result of the murderous shots from the rifles. The unanimous opinion is that the authorities should make a strong effort to put a stop to the practice.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would, you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Canthrarides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

It Costs Nothing

To find out for a certainty whether or not your heart is affected. One person in four has a weak heart; it may be you. If so, you should know it now, and save serious consequences. If you have short breath, fluttering, palpitation, hungry spells, hot flushes; if you cannot lie on left side; if you have fainting or smothering spells, pain around heart, in side and arms, your heart is weak, and perhaps diseased. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure will relieve you. Try a bottle, and see how quickly your condition will improve.

"About a year ago I wrote to the Miles Medical Co., asking advice, as I was suffering with heart trouble, and had been for two years. I had pain in my heart, back and left side, and had not been able to draw a deep breath for two years. Any little exertion would cause palpitation, and I could not lie on my left side without suffering. They advised me to try Dr. Miles Heart Cure and Nervine, which I did with the result that I am in better health than I ever was before, having gained 14 pounds since I commenced taking it. I took about thirteen bottles of the two medicines, and haven't been bothered with my heart since." MRS. LILLIE THOMAS, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

CHAUTAUQUA CIRCLE WOOS MUSE WITH ENJOYABLE RESULTS

Topics Assigned Burst Forth Into Verse—Charming Evening.

The meeting of the Chautauqua Circle held Monday evening with Mrs. Carnahan was unusually full of merriment presumably because the program committee, Mrs. F. A. Drummond and Miss Adda Merrell, broke into verse occasionally in assigning the subpects. The passing of the American Indian and the troubles of Alexander Dowie took up the greater part of the time set aside for current events after which the program proper began.

The subject given Miss Barbara Preston was "Some Lapses of Memory of Yourself or Other Great Persons" and she responded by telling a humorous tale of a tramp. Miss Merrell who gave herself "Some Pointed Epigrams" responded with a number of amusing ones culled from the greatest writers of all the ages. Miss Mabel Hamilton gave a history of some of the New Year's resolutions she had broken and of others which were still intact.

Mrs. Carnahan in response to "We'd Like to hear you tell today some funny things that children say" recounted some of the ausing happenings in her school room. Miss Elizabeth Wilson's subpect was voiced in the following sentiment "We'd like a story full of fun, you are gifted, tell us one" and in response gave an amusing character sketch of a friend living near her old home The subject assigned Miss Edith McNaughton was "Misery likes company they say, we'd like to hear you tell today (don't hesitate but now begin) of the very worst scrape you were ever in but as she was unable to be present the talk of the "scrape" had to be dispensed with Mrs. L. K. Beach was to "Describe some trip you've taken far, to Mexico, Europe or the world's fair" and in response gave an original poem describing an overland trip which she took to Lakeside several years ago. Miss Mame Sauvery responded to the subject "Give us a tale of old times when setlers were few. Of what they had then and what they did do." Miss Kate McClure gave an amusing array of epitaphs and Miss Ada Klossen in response to the command to "Describe some picture dark or fair. Please tell us all about it and the artist rare" described the magnificent portrait of Georgiana, Duchess of Devonshire done by the Artist Gainesborough; it was painted in the eighteenth century and at a sale brought the munificent sum of $53,000; later it was stolen by curio hunters and found years after in the false bottom of a trunk. Miss Lucy Beach was asked to give her favorite hymn and in reply told something of the work Newton and Cowper had done together . Miss Maud Mohler was told "Your talent gives us much delight. We wish that you would please recite" and in response gave a humorous selection entitled "Visiting the Old College." Miss Dorothy Davis was given the task of describing the most peculiar man she had ever heard of after which Mrs. Clifton Beach was asked to describe some well known man in Coshocton whose identity the members of the circle were asked to solve; she chose Mr. J. F. Meek. Her description followed by one of "The most peculiar woman you ever met" given by Miss Edna Mohler after which Miss Maud Ricketts came forward with "A Trip U should like to take and a visit I should like to make." She said that few weeks ago San Francisco was the goal of her dreams but since the earthquake she deemed it wisest to stay nearer home and would love above all things to go to Otsego. She described the wonders of the country round there and took the circle with her in a journey through the "diamond" mines which she said were none the less valuable because they happen to be black. Mrs. Drummond concluded the "Potpourri" with an interesting little "Romance in Real Life."

Mr. Drummond was a guest of the circle and at the close of the program Mrs. Carnahan served dainty refreshents.

ORKING WOMEN

ir Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Boston and One in Nashville, Tenn.

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, tumors, ulceration, falling and displacements or perhaps irregularity or suppression, causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Miss F. Orser, of 14 Warrenton Street Boston, tells women how to avoid such suffering; she writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered misery for several years with female irregularities. My back ached; I had bearing-down pains, and frequent headaches; I could not sleep and could hardly drag around. I consulted two physicians without relief, and as a last resort, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to my surprise, every ache and pain left me. I gained ten pounds and am in perfect health."

Miss Pearl Ackers, of 327 North Summer Street, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered with painful periods, severe backache, bearing-down pains, pains across the abdomen; was very nervous and irritable, and my trouble grew worse every month.

"My physician failed to help me and I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon found it was doing me good. All my pains and aches disappeared, and I no longer fear my monthly periods."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors will no more crush you.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing-down pains, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and it will make you strong and well.

You can tell the story of your sufferings to a woman, and receive helpful advice free of cost. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years she has, under her direction and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

IN FOOD SUPPLY.

Mayor Schmitz Says San Francisco Faces a Shortage.

San Francisco, May 1. — A feeling akin to consternation was created at the meeting of the general municipal committee when Mayor Schmitz stated that the city faced a shortage in the food supply It had been the popular belief, and that of many officials also, that San Francisco through the generous aid of the nation had been placed in a position above want for a long time to come, and the mayor's declaration came in the nature of a painful surprise Mayor Schmitz informed the general committe that from information in his possession it appeared that 700 carloads of food and supplies of various descriptions had been distributed since the morning of the earthquake on April 18, and the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe and other transportation lines had information of only 108 cars on the way. "If," said the mayor, "this information is correct, and I have no reason to doubt it, we will soon be worse off than we were a week ago. If the information had gone abroad through the country that we are amply supplied, it is most unfortunate, for it is apparent that we are not."

Commercial Museum.

Washington, May 1.—The establishment of a commercial museum in connection with the bureau of American republics is one of the projects which will doubtless be considered at the third pan-American congress to be held at Rio Janeiro, beginning July 20. Such a museum is recommended in a report of the reorganization committee of the bureau of American republics, which met here. The report doubtless will be approved and laid before the congress

A PROMINENT EDUCATOR

Declares Vinol is the Best Cod Liver Oil Preparation.

There has been a good deal of discussion in Coshocton regarding the merits of cod liver oil preparations, and whether or not cod liver oil and emulsions that upset the stomach have any medicinal virtue; therefore, the following letter from M. A. Cassidy, superintendent of schools, Lexington, Ky., will be read with interest:

"I am pleased to state that after having used and tested the different cod liver oil preparations on the market, I find Vinol to be far superior to them all. It is palatable and pleasant to the taste. In fact, the oily, fishy taste of cod liver oil is done away with entirely, and the curative and strengthening properties of Vinol are truly remarkable.

"Vinol built up my system, strengthened my nerves and made a new man of me, and I heartily endorse it as the most efficacious and agreeable cod liver oil preparation on the market."

Our local druggist, Mr. C. E. Anderson, when asked his opinion in regard to Vinol, replied, "We firmly believe Vinol to be the best preparation of cod liver oil, therefore, the greatest strength-creator and health-restorer known to medicine today. We have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to build up the system, strengthen the nerves, cure indigestion, chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis and incipient consumption, or to make growing children robust and give strength and vigor to the aged, and to make the weak strong and the sick well.

It is for this reason that we offer to give back the money in every case where it fails."

C. E. Anderson, druggist.

Of course you pay your money.
But you get your money's worth,
For what does money mean to you
When Rocky Mountain Tea's on earth?

Mrs. F. C. W. Trott wrote of "Rural Life and Labor in Germany' telling briefly of life in the rural districts of the peculiar dress of the peasant classe and of the many quaint customs which have come down from ancient times and which the people are loth to give up. The Fuel Question

Every one who has a house to heat is interested in any method to cut down fuel expenses, or to get more heat from the same amount of fuel.

The Round Oak Furnace

accomplishes this in four different ways, any one of which would make a very noticeable difference.

1st. There is no waste heat—all the heat furnished is sent into the house.

2nd. It will hold a uniform fire—low or raging hot—longer than any other.

3rd. It will keep the house warm all the time—never allowing it to become cold at night and so doubling its work the next day.

4th. It burns all the gases and smoke which is equivalent to more fuel.

Write for our free descriptive book "Warmth and Comfort." Heating plans furnished free of charge, giving proper location of furnace, of cold and warm air intakes, size of pipes and all details.

PLACE BLAME ON JEROME

Political Contributions by Insurance Men Not Inquired Into.

GRAND JURY MAKES REPORT

Recorder Goff Accepts the Presentment, but Says the Jury Failed to Do Its Whole Duty—Refers to the Attitude Assumed by the District Attorney.

New York, May 1.—Upon the completion of its term the grand jury for April returned a presentment to Recorder Goff in which it declared that it had failed to investigate political contributions by insurance officials because District Attorney Jerome had advised the jury not to do so.

The jury stated it had asked Mr. Jerome for evidence against the insurance officials, and that he had opposed action because he desired first to secure an opinion from the appellate division of the supreme court of this state on the question whether such political contributions constituted larceny. Such an opinion, Mr. Jerome had told the jury, would be given early in May and the cases could then be taken up by a special grand jury, which he had asked for.

Justice Greenbaum, the district attorney informed the jury, had already decided that the contributions were larceny, but Mr. Jerome expressed his doubts whether this ruling would be sustained by the appellate division. Mr. Jerome said it was in order to secure such a ruling before indicting any of the insurance officials and attaching to them an indelible stain that he took the case against George W. Perkins direct to the court instead of before the grand jury in March. "If Justice Greenbaum's ruling be sustained," the district attorney said, "it will be necessary to call as witnesses Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the Republican national committee, and George B. Cortelyou, its chairman and postmaster general, and indict a large portion of the officers of every financial institution in this city."

Commenting upon the presentment, Recorder Goff said the jury had acted within its authority and it was the duty of the district attorney to have submitted the evidence. Said the recorder: "It would not be the truth for me to say that you performed your whole duty. Nevertheless you have rendered a signal service in accentuating the unequivocal responsibility which now rests upon the district attorney. I appreciate fully the difficulty which would beset an investigation of this character by the grand jury unless you were aided earnestly by the co-operation of the district attorney, your legal adviser, whose duty it is to prefer evidence formulated and presented to the grand jury. Whenever a public duty plainly devolves upon an official or an authority the way to perform that duty is to do it, and not delegate the performance to somebody else."

GENERAL RISING

If Russian Parliament Fails to Satisfy Present Demands.

St. Petersburg, May 1.—Nazarenko, the peasant who has been elected to the lower house of parliament for the province of Kharkoff, has arrived here. He declared that the peasants all over the country are awaiting the solution of the agrarian problem with the greatest interest. If parliament should adjourn without satisfying their demand he predicts a general revolution among the peasants. Nazarenko further says that the peasants must own themselves the land they till, and that they are willing to pay for it, and he believes that it would be a serious mistake to abolish the system of the communal holdings to which the peasants are accustomed.

More American Victories.

Athens, May 1.—America's athletes have again had a day of remarkable success, Pilgrim, Lightbody, Friend, Leavitt and Bonhag sharing the honors. The American team is considered here as being probably the best all-round combination in the world. The 500 meters race also is likely to fall to them, together with the hurdles The general hope is expressed that the Marathon race, the great national event, will go to the Greeks, who have shown themselves good sportsmen.

Missing Cashier a Suicide.

Quincy, Ill., May 1. — The body of Walter W. Somers, missing cashier of the International bank of Hulls, Ill., was found in the cellar of a residence adjoining his own. He disappeared on April 14, leaving a deficit of $2,200 in his accounts. His father, John W. Somers, a banker at St. Joseph, Ill., had made good the deficit. Somers had shot himself in the temple. A revolver taken from the bank at the time he disappeared was found beside the body.

Against Kentucky Corporation.

Boston, May 1.—A bill in equity asking for the appointment of a receiver was filed in the superior court by a committee of bondholders against the American Reserve Bond company of Kentucky. The state savings bank commissioners are investigating the company, which on Feb. 24 was forbidden by the Massachusetts commissioners to do business in this state.

OHIO NEWS

Former Mayors of Marion.

Marion, O., May 1.—Simultaneously with the death of ex-Mayor J. C. Johnstone here came the news of the sudden death at Chillicothe of John G. Mader, who retired as Marion's mayor last January. Both men had long been prominent in local politics and were widely known throughout the state. Ex-Mayor Johnstone is the father of Genevra Johnstone Bishop, a vocalist of international reputation, who has sung before many of the crowned heads of Europe.

To Investigate Drake Exposures.

Cincinnati, O., May 1.—In charging the regularly summoned grand jury Judge Otto Pfleger instructed the members to investigate any irregularities developed by the Drake committee. The judge told the jurors they should not hesitate to find true bills against anybody apparently guilty of a felony, regardless of their personal, political, business or religious affiliations.

Killed Himself.

Bellaire, O., May 1.—Byron Hoge, prominent old soldier and farmer, living at Flushing, Belmont county, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart. His wife found him with gun in hand and tried to wrest it from him, but failed, and while she was gone for help he killed himself.

Found In Cistern.

Dayton, O., May 1.—The dead body of John Loehman, a farmer residing several miles south of here, was found in a cistern on his farm by his family. Coroner Kline rendered a verdict of suicide. Loehman had been despondent from the result of illness. He leaves a wife and five children.

Up For Life.

Canton, O., May 1.—Frank O. Stevens of Millersburg, O., convicted of killing Joseph Burke, was denied a new trial by Judge Harter. Stevens was immediately thereafter sentenced for life to the Ohio penitentiary.

Prominent Banker.

Marion, O., May 1. — Harry True, one of the most prominent bankers of central Ohio and a widely known Mason, is dead. He was at the time of his death grand treasurer of the Royal Arch Masons of Ohio.

Three of a Kind.

Delaware, O., May 1.—Triplets were born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Muffler. They are boys and all are doing nicely. Their combined weight was 12 pounds.

Fields on the ground of willful absence for three years and for the custody of the children, the issue of her marriage with said Fields

Said Charles D. Fields will further take notice that said petition will be for hearing on and after the 12th day of June, 1906

Newark [illegible] Came [illegible]

The local quintet bowlers as well as a crowd of enthusiasts, were very much disappointed when the Newark team which was scheduled to roll the first three games in a series of six here Monday night, failed to show up.

It certainly looked very "small" of the Newark bunch to send the challenge and make all arrangements and then fail to come without as much as notifying the Coshocton boys who had made all preparations to receive them.

That the Coshocton team is sore would be putting it mildly and the unanimous conclusion arrived at was that the Newark bunch is "yellow."

The Coshocton boys trimmed them twice, once on their own alleys and the boys say that they are awfully "tight." During the game on their own alleys the Newark outfit could not be induced to put up a cent on their own rolling not even after the second game of the three and they were leading in the score at the time

Where they Play Next Saturday

Benches vs Buckeyes at Riverside.
Schlahs at Canal Lewisville
Franklin at Warsaw.

Glad Rags.

The Beach club received their new set of uniforms from Spinney Bros., of Cincinnati, Monday. The color is gray with blue trimmings and the boys will sport the glad rags for the first time in the game at Riverside park, next Saturday. They should make a handsome appearance.

Warsaw May Lose Meyers.

Warsaw is in gloom. They are afraid of losing their star pitcher, Meyers. The young "phenom" has just graduated from high school and is contemplating entering college this summer. It is said that West Lafayette college is after the little left hander as well as several other schools. Meyer's work in the box last season and his first game at Warsaw Saturday, when he shut out the Buckeyes with four hits and fanned seventeen men, would indicate that he is fast enough for any college team in the state. But Warsaw wants him at home. They have a couple of box artists to fall back upon but neither gives promise of holding a candle to Dale Meyers.

New Suits.

The Schlahs are expecting their new suits this week. The appearance of Lewisville on the field last Saturday would show that they could use new suits also.

Help! Help!!

Give us a grand stand at Riverside park. The half of the old one was razed by the windstorm last week and the remaining half still standing sadly needs repairs. There were quite a number of ladies at the game Saturday and for the sake of at least the feminine portion of the crowd, who by the way are just as enthusiastic for baseball as the men, give us some accommodations at old Riverside ! ! !

Chance for a Game.

The following challenge has been received by the sporting editor for publication in the columns of The Age.

To the Novelty A. C. Basket Ball Team:

We challenge you to a game of basket ball, to be played in the city hall on any date you may name. Will be plased to make arrangements at once. Answer through The Age.

AMUSEMENTS

The Colonial Stock company opened a weeks engagement at the Sixth Street theatre, Monday night presenting "Slaves of the Orient" as the first bill. The show gave entire satisfaction to a large crowd.

It is probable that the local playhouse will not be closed at all this summer and Manager Callahan will make an effort to get some of the best things making this class of houses during this season of the year, for Coshocton theatre-goers.

Coshoctonians like a repertoire show, if it is good and on these grounds, the Colonial Stock should do a big business here this week.

The show last night was good. The company is made up of clever people and the specialties were above the average.

The bill for tonight is a "A Wife's Sacrifice."

Wants Office.

Fred Rinehart has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for county commissioner.

COLONIST RATES WEST.
